NEWS OF GLADES BOYS

Humphries, Jr., Pahokee.

Dear Sir:

I would like to express my thanks for the Herald sending me a free copy while I am in the service. I look forward to it and the news it carries each week.

At the present time I don't think I will be transferred from this base. I am still testing prospective Aviation Cadets as to whether they are qualified to enter into Cadet training. The weather here is very similar to the weather in Florida, except that it gets hotter here in the summer.

As of April 1st our Detachment has been redesignated as the 3502nd Personnel Processing Squadron (AC-OC). It didn't change my duty or job status as I am still doing the same thing. We test applicants for some of the Air Force Bases in New Mexico, Texas, Louisiana, as well as civilian applicants from parts of Mississippi and Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana.

Now I get to the bad part of the letter. Recently I have only been getting a paper once out of every 3 weeks. I don't know what the trouble is. I imagine it must be my address since you left off the Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas, perhaps causing it to be sent to another base near here as there are 3 others in this same area as I am in.

I forgot to explain about the tests I help give the prospective cadets. These tests are aptitude tests on the first day of sought out Mrs. Robert Smith—Christine Johnson of "Carousell" fame. With coaching from the professional singer-actress and the backing of a friend, she struck out for the big city exactly three months after graduation.

The help that Christine Johnson Smith gave her was a combination of the back and the front. She was the young singer star where she is today. Florence never "coached" whom she described as "the most marvelous woman to whom I attribute most of my theatrical knowledge." When "Oklahoma" opened in Boston last week, the pupil called to report to the teacher: "Every night I remember something else you told me," Florence said, "even if it's just to stand with my feet together."

Arriving in New York in the fall of 1951, Florence took up residence at the Actors Club (for girls only) and enrolled in the American Academy of Dramatic Art. Here she studied speech ("What a problem trying to lose a Kentucky twang," she says), more voice, body control, pantomime, acting and a score of other theatre-related subjects. After 10 months of schooling she stuck her foot in the stage door by answering a classified ad in the New York papers. "I don't know how much of this you are in interested in knowing about, but I did want you to know I appreciate getting the paper very much."

Sincerely yours,
George King.

SINGING STAR IS

The Henderson story is one of those things that just don't happen in real life. It's a fairy tale with a Cinderella ending. A little girl with good looks and a sweet voice goes to New York studies, gets a single line in a play and is noticed by a producer. The producer gives her an audition for his musical. Over some 300 candidates the newcomer is chosen and given the lead in the show. With her performance she is a hit, the acclaim of critics, an overnight success.

Snowballing like she did from backstage to the footlights, one would think the Rockport, Ind. girl who spent four years here going to night school would be affected by it all. It's easy for even the first flushes of fame to turn a pretty head, especially for a person so young and so new in the theatre world. But if anything, cranking Broadway on her second try only makes Florence Henderson more humble and grateful. She attributes her success "only to the goodness of God and His many blessings on me."

Ask her about her first starring roles and she mentions playing Jerry in the operetta at St. Francis Academy during her senior year—Jerry of Jettico Road—and her part as Rosie Moore in the Beta Sigma Phi production of "Up in Central Park" the same spring. Told that she had a good voice and stage possibilities, Florence cal history. "Oklahoma!" has been on Broadway or on tour since its opening at the St. James Theatre in New York City, March 1943.

Seen by 20 Million
In its 10 years it has chalked up an audience of more than 20 million people on four continents and has returned $50,000 for every $1500 invested in it. At its 10th anniversary party last month in Washington where it was playing, the producers and some of its star graduates returned for the historic performance and a celebration after the show. It all wound up with every one firmly expecting to return in 1963 to celebrate the 20th anniversary. Florence got her biggest professional thrill this far when she was asked to pose with the producers in the official birth-day picture.

Other "Oklahoma!" graduates have a v e found stardom through their roles in the musical—Howard Keel, Celeste Holm, Bambi Linn, Pamela Britten, Shelley Winters, to name a few.

Florence already has nibbles of better things to come. She has been offered the ingenue role in the new Broadway production of "The Great Waltz" on the West coast to star with Dorothy Kirsten and John Charles. "A Theatre Guild production," she says, "is a wonderful future—she's delighted!"

Critics who have been marking time and applauding her musical with every return of "Oklahoma!" to the big cities have been generous with the adjectives. Here's a sample of recent reviews:

"Handling the feminine lead is charming Florence Henderson, a comparative newcomer to the professional stage. She gives the role all the poise and grace it requires. Her voice is clear and distinct, adding beauty to solos and duets."—Detroit Times.

"This pretty Florence Henderson weaves the spells with the Rogers and Hammerstein music as other Laureys have."—The Milwaukee Journal.

"Florence Henderson, the Laurey of the current production, brings a quality of gentle melancholy to the role. Her approach is unusual and somewhat new, suggesting..."—Washington News.

"...a cute blonde who looks every inch a cuddlesome Laurey..."—Washington Times Herald.

An unspoiled girl is going up the ladder of success with the most difficult task of all—behind her. "I certainly intend to make the stage my career. I rather feel it's my vocation and I love it," says the little girl with the big future.

The traditional opening-night jitters gave her fits, she says, and have followed her through many a performance. But her never-fail remedy is to say a prayer. "I don't always stop them but it gives me confidence."

To date her most embarrassing incident on stage occurred when a huge flat fell, missing her by inches. Curly (Ralph Lowe) had just proposed to her. The two stood still in a clinch while the fallen scenery was removed. "My next line was 'Can't think of anything right now, hardly.' The audience burst into loud applause. I've never been so flustered and so grateful," Florence relates.

Since August Florence has traveled over most of the United States and up into Canada with the show that has broken all attendance and continuity records in theatrical history.

BLOOD UTOPIA TO BE IN BELLE GLADE MAY 20th

May 20th is the date set for the Armed Forces Blood Drive for Belle Glade, according to Kenneth B. Roberts, chairman.

"The need for stock-piling of plasma continues to be urgent, and we hope each and every one physically capable will respond on that date," says Mr. Roberts.

LOOKS LIKE MORE DOGS FOR POUND

Reports are that the city has a few less dogs and cats this month as 14 dogs and 15 cats have been disposed of and 5 dogs impounded during April. Out of the 80 dog tag notices issued last month not one license has been collected. Unless these dogs tags are purchased looks like more dogs for the pound.

A special bus will be at the Local Board Office to transport these registrants to Miami and return, according to Mrs. F. W. Quinn, Local Board Clerk.

LION MEMBERS HEAR RABBI R. E. SINGER

Addressing the Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Lion's Club, Dr. Richard E. Singer, introduced by program chairman Victor E. Mulberg, spoke on "Mental Health in Observation of National Health Week."

The power of projection—thinking vs. health—was interestingly outlined before the group.

Rabbi of Temple-on-the-Lake Reformed Jewish Church, West Palm Beach, Dr. Singer has at his hobby a two months summer camp for children in the north mountains of Georgia. He and Mrs. Singer are assisted in this project with four counselors to four children. Formerly Infantry Chaplain with the U. S. Army stationed in Burma and China World War Two Rabbi Singer has observed first hand many occasions how greatly health is influenced by our thinking.

Final arrangements for the Band and Glee Club's attendance at the State Convention May 17, 18, and 19, in Miami were concluded. Six local Glee Club girls are being entertained each week by the club in acknowledgment of their assistance with the Lion's Club play last week.

Other guests of the club were Jimmie Vann, President Pahokee Lion's Club; M. L. Keen, Pahokee; Dr. David Duck, Savannah, Ga.; Wilbur Hurst, Beltsville, Maryland; Anna Roberts, Reverend E. L. Holladay and Mills Byrom (Rotarian) of Belle Glade.

THE ELKS PITCHERS could have used an umbrella to keep water off their backs, as Johnny Waters raked up both the Legion hits, a pair of singles. Acree also proved handy with the bat, striking out three hits in four trips to the plate.

Throop looked like Charley Gehring at second base pulling a couple of back hand stops that would make some Pros jealous. In the fourth he robbed Webster of a good hit when he moved to his right, came up with the ball and threw Webster out at first base.

Hudspeth went the distance for the Legion with Van Landingham doing the receiving. The box score follows:

BELLE GLADE RAMBLERS LOSE TO VERO BEACH 12-6

In the third game of the Coast Glades Loop the Ramblers were handed a 12-6 set-back by Vero Beach Sunday in a half-million dollar stadium at Vero Beach.

Vero Beach is winter headquarters of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The local boys just couldn't seem to get started. Through multiple errors and high winds passing along some deceiving fly balls Vero went ahead to a 12-6 victory over the local boys.

The Ramblers chalked up their only runs of the evening in the fifth and sixth innings. This brought the score up to 7-5 Vero and for a few exciting minutes the Belle Glade fans had high hopes of bringing an unfortunate victory back home.

Unfortunately, Vero had other ideas, as Stocker, the Vero hurler, settled down to blank the Ramblers the rest of the game.

Crisman started on the mound for the Ramblers but gave way to Rigdon in the seventh with Crosby catching.

Stocker went the route for the winners with Anderson behind the plate.

Belle Glade entertains Okeechobee Sunday at 3 p.m. at Memorial Field, so come on out and give our boys the boost they need.

GOD BLESS YOU MOTHER

I seek in prayerful words, dear Mother
My heart's true wish to send you
That you may know that, far or near,
My kindly thoughts attend you.

I cannot find a truer word,
Nor fonder to care you,
Nor song nor poem I have heard
Is sweeter than "God bless you!"

God bless you! So I've wished you all
Of brightness life possesses;
For can there any joy at last
Be yours, unless God blesses?

God bless you! So I breathe a charm,
Lest grief's dark night oppress you,
For how can sorrow bring you harm
If 'tis God's way to bless you?

And so dear Mother, through all your days
No harm can touch you ever,
If this alone, God's blessing stays,
Then you are safe forever!

This poem was taken from Mother's Day card sent to Mrs. C. W. McDonald from Earl Holway, U.S.S. PRINCETON.

"EVERY CHILD DESERVES TO BE WELL BREED, FED LED, WED AND DEAD"

The Rev. U. W. Malcom, a native of the hills of North Carolina, and coming to the Glades via Rome, Georgia, Pastorate, gave local Rotarians this invigorating aphorism Friday noon at its regular meeting.

A child deserves to be well bred," said the pastor, "That indicates the necessity for parents to so conduct their lives that the child inherit that virtue."

"It is necessary that a proper diet be given of sufficient quality and quantity to insure a steady and healthy growth; how may a child's instruction and preparation for life be what every parent wants it to be, if it is not led by righteous, well bred parents; every girl deserves a compatible and providing husband, every boy deserves a loving, faithful and ministering wife — they both deserve to be well wed."

"Every person deserves to be 'well dead'; he should have lived his life that family, friends and those who live after him may be proud and his accomplishments serve as an influence on others to be well bred, fed, led, wed and well dead."

The program was in charge of W. C. Weatherington, local mortician.

Foundation Laying

a card, be baptized and join a church. These things have their place, but any or all will not give one a foundation on which to build a Christian Character. The text is the solution.

Dig Deep — Build on the solid rock — Christ Jesus. Any other foundation we may lay is not solid. But let the testings come and our foundation will be tried, and great will be the destruction if we have depended on things instead of Jesus Christ.

The religion of Christ admits no other true foundation. All else is false — will not stand in the judgment. By the Grace of God let us build our lives, on the true foundation which is Christ Jesus.

The man who built upon the solid rock suffered no loss when the floods came and the winds blew and beat upon his home.

"For other foundation can no man lay, than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

Text I Cor. 3:11 "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

A well constructed foundation is of great importance. In home training, in education, in training, building or in religious life the basic training greatly affects the future of the thing or individual.

For the past few months we have been greatly interested in building a place of worship. Some wanted us to put on the roof, some to construct the walls and other probably wanted the windows placed. However, no roof, walls or windows could be erected or placed until we had completed a suitable foundation. This we did. We drove pilings to the rock, poured concrete and laid steel then we were ready to build on this foundation.

Thus it is in religion. If one is to build a Christian Life, and become a strong worldly character he must not just reform, sign wardship — Mrs. Pennington; Investment and Dividends — Mrs. Schlechter; Prayer — Mrs. Byrom.

Dig Deep — Build on the solid rock — Christ Jesus. Any other foundation we may lay is not solid. But let the testings come and our foundation will be tried, and great will be the destruction if we have depended on things instead of Jesus Christ.

The religion of Christ admits no other true foundation. All else is false — will not stand in the judgment. By the Grace of God let us build our lives, on the true foundation which is Christ Jesus.

The man who built upon the solid rock suffered no loss when the floods came and the winds blew and beat upon his home.

"For other foundation can no man lay, than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

Text I Cor. 3:11 "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

A well constructed foundation is of great importance. In home training, in education, in training, building or in religious life the basic training greatly affects the future of the thing or individual.

For the past few months we have been greatly interested in building a place of worship. Some wanted us to put on the roof, some to construct the walls and other probably wanted the windows placed. However, no roof, walls or windows could be erected or placed until we had completed a suitable foundation. This we did. We drove pilings to the rock, poured concrete and laid steel then we were ready to build on this foundation.

Thus it is in religion. If one is to build a Christian Life, and become a strong worldly character he must not just reform, sign

EVERGLADES VOCATIONAL HIGH

NFA News

The organization has been quite busy in the last ten days gathering produce out of the land laboratory plot. Ninety-five crates of string beans and thirty-five crates of black-eyed peas have been sold to American Fruit Growers, Inc. The string beans sold from $2.90 to $3.75 per bushel and the black-eyed peas sold for $2.00 per bushel.

From these sales the organization should be able to pay off outstanding bills and have enough funds left to start next year's farming season.

Plans are being made to select three members out of this chapter to represent the group at the annual NFA Convention that convenes at Florida A. and M. College, Tallahassee, Florida, June 2-5. It is the aim of the chapter to finance the judging team that represents them at this convention.

Our advisor, Mr. J. J. Holliday, informed the group that a short preparatory course will begin next week on tractor handling and tractor maintenance. The purpose of this course is to acquaint each boy on the proper care, handling and use of a Ford tractor on a farm. This should enable them to do a better job when hired to do this type of work on a much larger farm.

The Junior Class News

On April 29, 1953 the Junior Class presented its last chapel program of the year. The program included the following: Song "The Lord's Prayer," N. W. Stacey, Earlene Jordan;

Song "The Lord's Prayer," N. W. Stacey; A skit, "Silly Sally Falls Again"; Characters of the Skit were: Mrs. Clarendon—Rosa Skitson; Silly Sally—Gennie Wells; Mrs. Smith—Mary Thompson; Silly Sally's sister, Susie—Luevonne Mims; Announcer—Bernice Pompey. The skit contained two scenes: the right and wrong way of applying for a job. Following the skit, a solo, Bless our School was sung by Mary Greene. Willie Pyrron played a trumpet solo. We were inspired with a speech given by the Reverend Crowder, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Miami, Florida. His subject was, "Christianity is the Rock upon which Negro Education must be built." The delivery was very clear and distinct. It was enjoyed by all.

American Junior Red Cross News

CROSS COUNTRY CHATTER with Mac White

I was on a peddle run the other day that took me from Jacksonville to my terminal at Jacksonville. I had to make some truck detours over roads that I'm ashamed to admit exist in Florida.

"It's a damned shame," I told my wife, Mary, when I got home, "that the money Florida's motorists and the trucking industry pay out in taxes isn't invested in more and better highways."

"Take it easy," Mary said, "you're a truck driver—not a politician."

"That I know," I said. "But did you ever stop to think that taxes levied on motor vehicles in Florida during 1952 totaled nearly $26,000,000. The trucking industry alone paid nearly $7,000,000 just for registration fees and license tags. Yet of that nearly $26,000,000, only about $450,000 was earmarked for public roads.

"Watch your blood pressure, Mac," Mary said.

"Twenty-four of our 48 states have anti-tax-diversion constitutional amendments," I said. "Eight other states are preparing to pass such amendments. But not Florida. It just doesn't make sense."

"Shall I tell you a soap box?" Mary asked.

"Nope," I said, "but just remember those figures—nearly $26,000,000 collected in 1952 from Florida's car and truck owners and only $450,000 earmarked to pass such amendments. It's a mighty sorry situation."

IT'S GREAT TO BE AN
brings eventually, an ignorance of the people. This ignorance is always most detrimental to humanity. Americanism gives one a right to disagree with any one but also demands that we extend to all the same privilege to publicly express themselves. To be an American means I am not obligated to agree with anyone but I am forced, by law, to defend everyone's right to voice their disagreement.

Being an American insures me the right of choosing by education and seeking proper training for it. Living in America I have access to a public educational system, which, rightly employed, allows me to become what I want to be.

If I have musical talent, being an American, I can use American ways of developing it. If I have talent within me for art, I'm free to educate, which means to draw out that talent. Many are trying to educate or draw out that which is not there. Americans can use their own convictions as to what type of training they will apply to themselves.

To be an American means, best of all, I have religious freedom. The government or state cannot even hint of hindering my religious convictions. Not only can I believe about God, creation, redemption, the Bible, future life of man, and other spiritual things as I want to but the privileges I have mentioned before gives me absolute guarantee that I can practice my four generations were represented.

To be an American means I can enjoy government, home, school, and church in freedom and know that others having the same rights will enjoy my enjoyment.

It's great to be an American.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE AN AMERICAN

By Peter Seale—17 years old, 12th Grade

Teacher, Mrs. Allison

Though this question has been asked a great many times the answer is not always the same. However, all the answers have one thing in common, freedom. America has long been justly called "The Land of the Free," and people all over the world look up to Americans and the American way of life. This is something to be proud of.

Freedom plays a very important part in answering the question, what it means to be an American. It was in search of freedom that America was first settled. Since it was discovered large numbers of immigrants have been constantly pouring into America from all parts of the world. Why did they come? They came for many reasons but here again the answer is basically the same, freedom. It may have been the chance for freedom from want, freedom from fear, freedom of speech, the right to express yourself freely at any time, or freedom of religion, the right to worship God in your own way anywhere, or anything else. It all adds up to being able to live like a human being should, doing what you want to as long as it does not infringe on the rights and privileges of someone else.

To different people being an American means a different thing. To be an American means some people means having certain rights that can not be taken away from them, rights they might not have somewhere else in the world. An example of this is government. In a democracy like ours the people themselves make the machinery of government and reserve the right to run it through their representatives. The very word democracy gets its meaning from two Greek words, demos, which means the people and crates, meaning power, thus the power is in the hands of the people. This is hardly the case in a country like Russia.

Being an American citizen means having the right to vote for the candidate you think best suited for the office, or even run for the office yourself if you are qualified to do so and feel you would be of service. Too many Americans do not use their right to vote. This is a privilege and a responsibility, and it is part of being an American. By voting you decide which candidate you want to represent your interests in the government.

Being an American means choosing where you want to live and work. You are entitled to a good complete education if you desire instead of an early life of military training that you would receive in a country like Russia. It also means the little things, like meeting the "gang" at the corner drug store after school; not being afraid of what tomorrow might bring.

isting means with the wing for colored, thru one kitchen, and an early life of military training that you would receive in a country like Russia. It also means the little things, like meeting the "gang" at the corner drug store after school; not being afraid of what tomorrow might bring.

It is estimated that the new Pine Ridge Hospital will cost $24,000, and the new wing and central community kitchen to be constructed for St. Mary's Hospital that will prepare the food for St. Mary's Hospital, St. Mary's Nursing School and Pine Ridge Hospital will cost $434,850. Approximately 40% of the cost of running a hospital is in the operation of the kitchen so this arrangement will materially reduce the future operating costs of all three institutions. Additional alterations to St. Mary's Hospital will cost $167,150. Outside Utilities and Site Work — $85,000. Equipment, Fees and Contingencies will add $288,000, making a total cost for the construction of Pine Ridge Hospital and the rebuilding of St. Mary's Hospital — $1,800,000.

In 1946, Congress passed the Hill Burton Act to help communities such as our meet their critical needs for hospital facilities and on October 12, 1952, the 100th hospital project assisted by this Act was completed.

An application has been made to obtain a grant of 50% of the cost of $800,000 from Government funds. However, to qualify for the Government grant the Hospital must have on hand the remaining $400,000. Of this required amount, $600,000 has now been given or pledged, leaving $300,000 that must be raised immediately.

Intelligent philanthropy demands sensitive ability for prodigious business insight and prodigious scurrying into details, and this seems to have been an outstanding example of intelligent philanthropy, on the part of Mr. Wrightman and his associates.

Mr. Henry Ford has been persuaded to join Mr. Wrightman and others of like financial and social position among our winter visitors, and the group seem to have arrived at a happy solution to substantially aid the negro and the whites, without involvement of existing relations among the two races—an accomplishment of national importance and an outstanding example to those of both races who would forget that only education and time will wear away existing barriers, political inspiration to the contrary.

A board of directors for the negro operation composed of members of their own race, as well as members of the staff, have been arranged and working agreements will be negotiated by the two boards.

Participation in the drive as an indication of interest and self-help is the aim in the work among the negroes themselves. Every member of every family a contributor, seems to be the aim of the effort now.

Belle Glade stands third temporarily, with 150 1/2 points, moving ahead of Delray Beach with 139 points in the County League Ladies Golf Tournament. It's just to bad our girls can't play good at the same time isn't it? Perhaps they need one of those Ziemann Zombies advertised at the Country Club. 'Tis hearsay that the contents contain the proper vitamins to make a good golfer, however, you don't have to be a golfer to try one.

Recipe—One glass ice cold tomato juice, to which add 1 ball of ice cream—stir.
